President's Message

"If we don't remember, who will?"

Greetings from Topeka! Yes, times are somewhat uncertain and unsettling, but the Ninth Infantry Division Association keeps moving forward.

I must start by letting you know that one of our great 9th Infantry Division veterans and life member of the Association, Clarence Ray, passed away on December 30. Clarence served in the 47th Regiment in WWII and was well decorated for his service, including receiving the prestigious French Legion of Honor medal in 2013. We salute Clarence for all he did for our country and are very honored and thankful that he was an important member of our Association.

One of the goals in moving to a 501(c)3 has been to see if we can secure some outside contributions to mirror the great internal/member support we have gotten over the years. Fortunately, we have received a $5,000 donation from an old business friend of mine, John Figueroa. John served as an Army Ranger and in the 12th Special Forces Group. He is currently CEO of CarepathRx. After sign-off by the Board of Governors, this donation is being split evenly among two of our funds - the general memorial fund and the Friends of Father Connors Fund (FFCF). Many thanks to John for his donation and for his Army service. This donation will appear in next month's financial report.

The Association's taxes (due in November each year) were compiled by our accounting firm, reviewed and mailed in by Treasurer, Mary Cooper. This accounting firm (Mize CPAs) also completes our quarterly financial statements. Mary provides them with monthly transactions and bank statement copies. My thanks to Mary and to Mize for this excellent work.

We have had recent communications with Sarah Campbell and Abby Stambach at the College of Holy Cross regarding updating of our Association archives. The primary effort at this time is to update the collection of Octofoils to include 2006 to present. A Zoom call and some follow-up emails have allowed us to set a timeline for this. Thanks to Terry Barnhart, who chaired this effort and also to Jane Mitchell, who, along with Terry, will get the needed Octofoils to Holy Cross for the archives.

The 76th Annual Meeting/Reunion is still scheduled for August 5 - 8 at Ft. Bragg. Details are included in this issue. We are certainly aware of the many facts regarding the current virus so we will be monitoring all this in the months to come. Also, I'm going to keep harping a bit on the new website - 9thinfantry.org. We update it quarterly. I encourage you to visit the site and become familiar with it.

My best to all of you,
Pete Stern, President

THE 9TH DIVISION MARCH

The 9th Division March was included in a booklet entitled "9th Division History", originally published in the winter of 1944-45 and distributed to people in the unit and to replacements who joined the unit. An exact replica was reproduced and printed by Jack and Llavonne Blann. Jack was a member of E Company, 47th Regiment and received the original when he joined the unit in February, 1945.

Here's to the 9th Division,
The Division that's the Army's Pride;
Here's to the 9th Division
And it's brave and gallant men so true and tried.

We will be loyal to her,
No stain shall mar her name;
For freedom's cause we'll ever live
And all the world shall know,
The 9th Division proves her fame.

TAPS SOUNDED

The muffled drum's sad roll has beat the soldier's last tattoo;
No more on life's parade shall meet that brave and fallen few.
On Fame's eternal camping—ground their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards, with solemn round, the bivouac of the dead.

Pen to Paper - Letters to Loved Ones

Letter from Clarence Ray to his mother dated December 22, 1944

Just a line to let you know I'm still kicking. Things aren't too bad with me. I am back with the outfit now. It's not as nice as the hospital, but things aren't nearly as tough as when I was with them before. It's sort of cold and damp out here, and it snowed some last night, so it looks as though we'll have a white Christmas. I haven't received any mail yet, but I'm looking for some any day now.

I suppose you are busy getting ready for Christmas. You know this will be the third Christmas away from home for Wayne and I. We'll hope that by next Christmas, we can all be together again. That will be a glorious celebration, won't it, Mom?

As I lay here with my cold feet, I can see you with your feet in the oven reading the paper.

When you see my friends and people I know back there, give them my very best regards and tell them I would like to write them, but my fingers get so darn cold, but I think of them just the same. I have finally gotten on German soil. It does my heart good to see their own country homes and artillery blown all to he___. They will have something to do besides prepare for another war.

Well, my fingers are getting stiff so I'll sign off for this time. I'll write again as soon as I can. Don't worry about me. I'll be alright. God bless you, my good people.

Love to all,
Clarence

“Nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina”

What better place could there have been to celebrate this 75th Annual Reunion of the Ninth Infantry Division Association than where it began with the 9th Infantry Division training for WWII? It was unfortunate that the Covid-19 pandemic prevented this Reunion from taking place in person. However, the 2020 Reunion Committee met virtually to renegotiate plans to honor this milestone. We are happy to report that everything will happen as originally planned, just one year later as the 76th Annual Reunion.

The Ft. Bragg Command has agreed again to host the Association for a special one-day event on-base. This will be only the fourth time that the Association has visited Ft. Bragg. Reunions were also held there in 1962, 1982 and 1992. This will be a unique opportunity to see where the troops trained over 78-79 years ago and give us a modern day glimpse into troop training today. Make your plans to come experience some Southern hospitality and visit the largest military base where the “Old Reliables” legend began.

Date

Since the base activities need to be held during a weekday, the reunion schedule has been moved up a day. We will meet Thursday, August 5th and conclude with our annual banquet on Saturday night, August 7th. Check out will be on Sunday August 8th unless you decide to stay to enjoy the Fayetteville and North Carolina area.

Hotel

This Reunion will be held at the Clarion Hotel in Fayetteville, NC. It is conveniently located near I-95 and is approximately 15 miles from Ft. Bragg. A special room rate of $102 per room has been negotiated which included a hot breakfast buffet for everyone in each booked room. There are also microwaves and mini fridges in every room along with in-room coffee. (See reunion application for specific registration details.)

Transportation

Two regional airports and rail service are available to the Ft. Bragg region. Nearby Fayetteville Regional airport is served by both Delta and American Airlines. East Coast Amtrak routes also serve Fayetteville. The Clarion has a complimentary hotel shuttle to these local transportation venues. Raleigh-Durham offers more air carriers, but is approximately 60 miles away. There is no complimentary shuttle service to and from this airport.

Welcome Dinner

Registration will be open all day on Thursday. The Board will hold the first of several meetings in the afternoon. During the evening, there will be a Welcome Dinner that will give you a taste of North Carolina cuisine that will have your mouth watering.

Fort Bragg

After breakfast on Friday morning, the group will be transported to Fort Bragg for the Memorial Service on the parade grounds at the 9th Infantry Division monument dedicated in 1982. Plans include a new plaque dedication to commemorate the 75th Reunion. Lunch will be provided at two of the mess halls where we will join the training airborne troops followed by two interesting on-base tours of training facilities. Transportation will be provided back to the hotel for those who are not interested or unable to participate. Afterwards, we will be transported to the Airborne & Special Operations Museum located in Fayetteville to enjoy a private tour and an Italian Buffet Dinner. It will be a full day of wonderful experiences which can be shared when we return to the hotel and chill out in the Hospitality Suite.

Saturday

Saturday will be enjoyed in the hotel as we conduct the business of the Association and have a time of Show and Tell which has become a favorite for attendees. Bring an interesting item to share and discuss with all. There will be a video interview with 100 year old Herb Stern, one of our WWII veterans who trained at Ft. Bragg in 1941-42. You will find his memory of this time remarkable!

Of course, the reunion would not be complete without our traditional Banquet that will include a delicious meal, good fellowship, an exciting raffle, and wonderful entertainment.

More details about additional “after reunion activities” will be included in the next Octofoil. So please, meet new friends and reunite with those who share this common bond as we continue to remember those who have given so much for our freedom. Registration for this reunion is $300 per person which includes all the scheduled events. A deposit of $100 per person is due by April 1, with the remainder due by June 1. We ask that you complete your registration by the due dates to facilitate a smooth planning process for the Reunion Committee. We hope to see you in beautiful North Carolina as we return to relive and create special memories of times past and present.

On the Way to Vietnam

*Written by Association member, Col. Charles Bonney
9th MP Company, Vietnam*

On the last day of my first life, I was taking a trip to San Francisco. I was finally going off to war. I was excited, scared, and disbelieving that I was finally going to the show. I didn't have a clue about what the show would be like, but I was going to be a part of it. After arrival in San Francisco, I had a day before heading to Travis Air Force Base for the trip to Vietnam. I didn't do anything exciting, but did go to Ernie's that night before the flight out. God, it was the best thing I could have done. I was in uniform and that was not a popular item in the San Francisco of 1968. The greeter at the restaurant quickly disarmed me of my concerns and took me to a very nice table. During that evening meal, my waiter led me on a great meal trip. Steak au Poivre was my entree for that proverbial "last meal". Oh yes, there was a very hearty red wine too. At that time my West Texas background had furnished me with the knowledge that wines were white, red, something in between, and some fizzled. I greatly enjoyed the wine and what it brought to the meal. I was to taste all of it in my mind for a very long time to come.

Early the next morning, I went to the bay and looked out at the Golden Gate Bridge and all of the surroundings with great care. I stopped at a little stand and ate some warm bread and drank a cup of hot coffee. It was good but I had to go. I was beginning to have a strange feeling of detachment from the whole scene as my bus left San Francisco for Travis Air Force Base. This was a long way from Texas and an even longer way from anything I had ever imagined.

Later in the morning, my bus arrived at the hustle and bustle at the main gate of Travis Air Force Base. The late morning was full of sunshine and a gaggle of war protesters. They stood by the gate carrying placards and waiving North Vietnamese flags. Given the passions of that time, their scruffy and rather perpetually filthy appearance was sad but not very remarkable. I had seen similar folks in Texas. Another thing about the protesters was the uniformity in their peace symbol. The Mercedes dealers must have been doing a land office business in hood ornaments. It seemed that everyone milling around the gate was sporting that item as a part of their standard issue scruffy uniform. I laughed to myself and wondered what they were thinking as they yelled, cursed, and pointed their fingers at me and my fellow soldiers. I thought "Why do they think I run this show? We're just a bunch of spear chuckers that have been doing the country's business since day one." Even today, I have never been able to get anyone to give me a good response. Anyway, we looked through them and, as we entered the Base, I thought that it looked like grand central station and was painted khaki. Soldiers were everywhere and everyone seemed to be hurrying to someplace, but I didn't know where. The bus then came to a huge terminal and stopped.

After an orientation, I picked up my duffel bag and started towards a fellow calling for personnel reporting for shipment. I've always been pretty good at seeing the line and cueing up. It's something the Army does a great job in teaching you from day one. The processing was fairly painless and soon I was sitting in the designated shipment area for my flight. I was surprised to learn that I was going to fly via TWA. While waiting, the Army had other things planned for our entertainment. We were called to go to another line that was an issue point for jungle fatigues. Oh yes, now this was what it was all about! Actual jungle fatigues! They were a light green fabric with lots of pockets and were loose fitting. It seemed that each pair was made to cover about three sizes. I was curious about the little strings at the bottom of each leg and wasn't sure why they were necessary. I would find out later.

I returned to the waiting area and sat on my duffel to wait. The aircraft was still showing "on time". Did you ever sit on a duffel bag for a long while? They look smooth but end up being very lumpy when turned into a seat. You find that you are either on the edge of a canteen cup or the lip of the helmet. Even though there is only one of each in the duffel bag, you sit on them no matter where you sit. That is the way a duffel bag fits your butt.

By now we were mooching cigarettes from one another and someone had gone on a cigarette run. Strangers became smoking and grumbling buddies as the time went by. We began to sort out where we were headed. If you have ever done that, you can remember the absolutely automatic brotherhood that was created when you found someone going to your outfit. I was on orders for the 9th Infantry Division and soon found another officer with similar orders. I was an MP "Butter Bar" Second Lieutenant and he was a First Lieutenant Infantry officer and also from Texas. Many years later, I would rub my hand on his name engraved into the wall near the Lincoln Memorial.

Our group covered the war zone, with most going to units such as the 1st Cavalry Division, the 1st and 9th Infantry Divisions, the 197th Light Infantry Brigade, and to transportation and other support elements. A total of six junior officers were headed for 9th ID units in the Mekong Delta. Finally, we were told that our plane was ready to load. We checked our duffel bags and walked in a line onto the apron and climbed the steep ramp onto the plane. I will always remember the feeling in my foot as it left the ramp onto the plane, snipping my connection to U.S. soil. I remember a chill running through my body and the thought, "Will this be the last time I touch home soil alive?" I have done it many times since then, but that feeling and thought never go away.

My group of six was able to stay intact as we were seated in the plane. Everyone was raring to go. I was able to get a window seat and wanted to see the last piece of US mainland that I could. It wasn't long until we lifted off the runway. I wasn't the only guy straining to catch every available glimpse of home as it dropped beneath us. Soon we were high over the ocean and the coastline went out of sight. It was bright outside, but it seemed as if the sky had turned dark and I felt so alone. After about 18 steady hours of jet flying, with several brief stops on the way, the shoreline of Vietnam came into view and my next life began.

Minutes of the 75th Business Meeting
Saturday, August 8, 2020
Via Conference Call

The 75th Business Meeting of the Ninth Infantry Division Association took place via conference call and was called to order by President Peter Stern at 11:00 a.m. Central Standard Time. He thanked all members who were able to join and reminded the group of the meeting agenda. He reviewed the purposes of a 501(c)3 and the Association's mission.

Roll call was taken by Clare Irwin by calling out the names of all members on record. Those present responded with aye. There were enough members for a quorum and the meeting proceeded.

The President led the Pledge of Allegiance which was followed with a prayer given by Dennis Bonkowski.

Minutes

The minutes from the 74th Business Meeting were printed in the July – September 2019 Octofoil. Charles Bonney made the following motion. MOTION: To approve the minutes printed in the Octofoil, Theda Ray seconded and the motion passed unanimously.

President's Report

President Peter Stern reported that this is our first full year as a 501(c)3. He thanked our attorney Tina Melo for her help in moving us to this organizational status and for producing the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws that guide us. We have continued accepting individual member donations and will look at contributions from outside the association.

We have submitted our first tax return with our organizational structure. We also have a new website – 9thinfantry.org which started in May 2020. A budget for the fiscal year starting July 2020 was developed by Treasurer Mary Cooper and approved by the Board of Governors on May 19, 2020. Clare Irwin worked on a number of membership-related issues in the past year. Terry Barnhart and the Reunion Committee worked with Ft. Bragg to set up the 75th reunion, which is now postponed until next summer. The Octofoils have gone out quarterly as planned. Dennis Bonkowski chaired the nomination process for the Board of Governors and officers.

Other Business today will include a reading by Terry Barnhart of Bivouac of the Dead and Taps played by Peter Stern. Both are usually included in our Memorial Service. Peter thanked everyone for their continued participation and support of the Association.

Financial Report

Mary Cooper reported that she met with the Board of Governors on May 19, 2020, via a conference call and a budget was approved that we will be using in the future. This is recommended by our legal counsel. The budget will be stating our expenses quarterly in the Octofoil for our members to understand more easily. We will continue to have our designated funds; General, Octofoil, Octofoil Library Project, Memorial Fund, Friends of Father Connor Fund, Reunion, and Vets Travel Fund. Legal and Website are big expenses for the coming year. Mary hopes that members will sign up for the Octofoil electronically. This will save the organization money on printing and postage. If any member has a question about the budget or our finances please email her at any time. Peter praised Mary's job as treasurer.

Membership Report

Clare Irwin, Dennis Bonkowski, Kathy Tapelt, and Jan Sewick, make up the membership committee. They discussed reasons for decline of membership: people forgetting to send in money or the passing of members. They are rebuilding the database which had 1300 names in 2001. Active member Data Base includes; Veterans, Veteran Spouses or Widows, Lineal Descendants or Other. The committee will be looking into the following for 2020–2021:

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1) Who has not paid dues for 2020.           | 2) Invitation to join, first electronically then by mail. |
| 3) Review Reunion Booklet from last 3 years. | 4) Have a consistent membership ID for all members.       |

Pete thanked Clare and her committee for all their work and reminds members to send in their money for renewal.

Octofoil Report

Thanks to Theda Ray and Jane Mitchell for all their hard work.

Reunion Report

Due to the fact that we had to postpone our reunion this year, the committee of Mary Kay Darr, Judy Rishel, Charles Bonney and Terry Barnhart, will continue to work with Ft. Bragg and want to do the same things for the 76th Reunion. We will meet Thursday, August 5th, and conclude with our annual banquet on Saturday night, August 7th. We will stay at the Clarion in Fayetteville. The agenda will stay the same. More information to come. We look forward to seeing everyone in person next year.

Website Report

Peter Stern acknowledged committee members Terry Barnhart, Mary Cooper, Clare Irwin and Theda Ray. The committee completed a request for proposal process and selected Richard Suls as our new webmaster. Peter shared the site name again, 9thinfantry.org, and reviewed the basic sections of the site. Updates of certain sections are planned each year. Everyone should visit the site and please let Peter know of any questions or suggestions.

Nominations Committee

The Bylaws allow current BOG members to be reappointed which is considered a second term. The committee of Dennis Bonkowski, Linda Jorden, and Theda Ray, contacted the seven members of the Board of Governors whose terms are expiring in 2020 and asked if they would be interested in serving another three-year term. The following members have agreed to serve for another three-year term: Terry Barnhart, Charles Bonney, Mary Cooper, Mary Kay Darr, Clare Irwin, and Judy Rishel. Glenda Baswell respectfully declined. The committee thanked her for her years of service on the Board and for chairing the 2018 Reunion in Southaven, Mississippi.

The Association's Officers, President Peter Stern, Vice-President Dennis Bonkowski, Secretary JoAnn Bryant, and Treasurer Mary Cooper have offered to serve in their positions for another year.

Glenda Baswell made the following motion. MOTION: To approve the renewal of the three-year terms seconded by Janet Casanave and passed unanimously.

We will have a later conference call of Board of Governors to approve officers.

Other Business

Terry Barnhart read two stanzas from Bivouac of the Dead.

Terry Barnhart asked about the Archives of Holy Cross. He will check to see if school is opened. We need to update the library with missing issues of The Octofoil.

Charles Bonney asked how many people had registered for the 75th reunion. Judy Rishel responded that 55 had been mailed in.

Taps was played by President Peter Stern.

Thanks to all for being on call today to offer your participation and support.

The meeting adjourned at 12:08 Central Standard Time.

Respectfully submitted,
JoAnn Bryant, secretary

(continuation of the 9th Division March from page 1)

We will protect our birthright,
Liberty's sons are we,
We will be slaves to no might,
Americans are free.

We serve our flag and country,
Every soldier is a fortress strong;
Giving our best to our country
We will be the victors tho' the strife
    be long;
We do not fear the battle,
We're ready for the fray;
Keeping hearts and courage high,
United as we go – the 9th Division
    leads the way.
